

AJL BLUE

Ophthalmic Solution

Brand name	AJL BLUE
Reference	AJL BLUE 0.06%
Description and indications	AJL BLUE 0.06% is an ophthalmic sterile trypan blue solution, intraocular and biocompatible used in ophthalmic surgery of the anterior segment. This ophthalmic dye is used as a coadjuvant during capsulorhexis and minimises the risk of laceration in eyes with mature cataracts, with poor reflexes at the back of the eye or with small pupils. • Capsulorhexis. • Phacoemulsification • Small incision cataract surgery. • Extracapsular cataract surgery. • Anterior/posterior capsulotomy. • Membrane peeling. • Improved visualization.
Composition	Trypan blue sterile ophthalmic solution at 0.06%
Sterilization method	Steam
Supply	1 ml prefilled glass syringe and Luer lock 27G cannula
Shelf-life	3 years

* Product with CE marking

REV: 05. 07/2022